

Handcrafted Log Home with pool, bordering thousands of acres of Public Land with Development Potential

Location: Rural

The logs for this exceptional home were harvested, hand-cut, and polished right on the very property where the home proudly stands today. Designed by an architect - no load-bearing walls! - and built by skilled local craftsmen with extraordinary attention to detail - from the antique doorknobs to the handcrafted cabinetry and staircases - this is truly a one-of-a-kind residence. Every beam and stair tread is made from solid wood, reflecting the quality and craftsmanship found throughout the home. In-floor heat, heat pump, AC, Immaculate cared for inground pool, with concrete surround, paved driveway and parking lot, 2 covered sheds with concrete floors. Up to 47 additional acres available: 4 additional permitted lots - see plat map, two homes are allowed on each lot.

Come and take a look at this Private Applegate Valley Estate with Development Potential, just five miles from the charming historic town of Jacksonville.
